Friends of Drama To Give Three One-Act Plays

As was the case last year, the January presentation of the Arlington Friends of the Drama will be in the form of three one-act plays to be given at the clubhouse Friday and Saturday evenings, January 17 and 18. The three attractions will be "The Purple Doorknob" by Walter Pritchard Eaton, "The Other Side of a Door" by Essex Dane, and "And Templed Hills," dramatized from a Paul Gallico story by Parker Wood, a member of the local organization.

The first two plays are being directed by Myrdred Foley Trempf, who has turned out more successful presentations than any other coach in the club, while Mr. Wood is directing his own opus. "The Purple Doorknob" will boast of Mrs. George Tewsbury in the leading role and will mark the club's senior star's only appearance this season.

Home Important Today Mrs. Parker Tells Woman's Club

As the life of our nation depends so largely on the type of homes the women of America make it was particularly fitting that the first 1941 meeting of the Arlington Woman's Club, held in Robbins Memorial Town Hall on Thursday afternoon, January 2nd, should have been American Home Day. The president, Mrs. Fred U. Wyman, who presided, suggested the following as an appropriate resolution for home-makers in these uncertain times—"I will make my home a democratic home where mother, father and children share in family fellowship and love."

The program for this meeting was in charge of the American Home Committee, of which Mrs. Archibald C. Loveys is chairman, with the following members: Mrs. Harold N. Anderson, Mrs. Fred A. Bowen, Mrs. Chester C. Burnham, Mrs. Leicester F. Hamilton, Mrs. Adrian C. Keller, Mrs. Braman Proctor and Mrs. Emery F. West.

YEAR'S BUILDING FALLS SHORT OF MILLION DOLLARS

Total Value of 440 Permits, $920,787. December's $61,782.50.

The total value of the 440 building permits issued during 1940 by Inspector Paul H. Mossman was $920,787. This is $235,101 less than 1939's permits which were $1,155,888.

Included among the permits were 146 for single houses and 20 for double. The largest single permit was for $32,000 for a store on Massachusetts avenue at the Heights. There were only 28 garage permits, probably because the newer houses include garages in the house plans. A large part of the building has been in the Tower section of the Heights although the development of Kelwyn Manor and the Wilton development of the Crosby farm have been continued. The two-family houses have been built in odd lots here and there.

Has Collected 83% of Year's Arlington Taxes

At the close of the year a little more than 83% of the 1940 real estate taxes had been collected, according to the report of J. Wilbert Anderson, tax collector. This is a higher percentage of collections than has prevailed for some years and is some indication that conditions are generally better and property owners are more able to pay their taxes. There were also fewer tax takings made in 1940.

Demands for unpaid 1940 real estate taxes are to be mailed out soon to property owners. By paying their taxes now, property owners will avoid a demand fee of 35c.

COMPLETE DETAIL WORK FOR COMMUNITY FUND CAMPAIGN

Committee Selecting Neighborhood Captains and Solicitors for Every Section.

Hundreds of public spirited citizens in Arlington are devoting all their spare time and energy these days to completing detail work prior to the start, on January 18, of the all-important 1941 Community Fund Campaign.

All must be in readiness a week from now so that the big task of putting Arlington over the top in fund solicitations can proceed without delay. The actual money-raising drive will last just 19 days, starting January 18 and ending February 5. During that short period everything must go like clock-work so that every household in the town may be visited and every person given a chance to contribute to a really worthy cause.

Headquarters for the organization work is at 677 Massachusetts avenue, where Mrs. Harold A. Yeames, chairman of the Administrative Committee, oversees the activities of a large number of volunteer workers who are perfecting the machinery, coordinating the activities of the various sub committees and organizing a clearing house for all departments.

District Directors in all sections of Arlington are busy selecting neighborhood captains who in turn are selecting solicitors to cover each street and visit each home in the town. A great part of the success of the drive depends on the solicitors and much care is being taken in their selection.

Clergy Aid Drive

The clergy of Arlington are giving great aid to the fund drive and all the churches of the town will proclaim "Community Fund Sunday" in recognition of the needs of the community, at the services this week. Sermons and special appeals will sound the advance keynote of the campaign, which will raise money to support 200 hospitals, health centers and social service agencies serving the 2,000,000 people of Greater Boston.

The Capitol Theatre and the Regent Theatre are also cooperating in the drive and will show pictures

Mrs. Annie E. Carpenter, the wife of George H. Carpenter of 108 Park avenue extension, died suddenly last Saturday in her fifty-ninth year. She was born in Cardiff, South Wales, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Hanley.

The funeral was held from her late home Tuesday morning and was followed by a solemn high mass of requiem in St. James' church. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

FREDERICK M. CHASE

Frederick Monroe Chase, who will be recalled by many friends as a former resident of Arlington, died on January third in Falmouth Foreside, Maine at the age of sixty-six. He was a member of one of Arlington's old families, his father, Edward Chase, and grandfather having been carpenters here. The family home was on the site of the Colonial Garage and it was Mr. Chase who built the garage and operated it for a time. In his early manhood he was a foreman in the ice tool factory of William T. Wood and Company. He was one of the first Arlington men to fly an airplane.

For the past twenty years or more he had lived in Maine. Funeral services were held at his home there Monday afternoon. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery, Tuesday morning. He leaves only his widow, Mrs. Susan G. Sewall Chase, who is the daughter of Mrs. Julia E. Sewall of Bacon street.

EUGENE B. FITZGERALD

Eugene B. Fitzgerald, World War veteran who served overseas, was buried with military honors Saturday morning. The funeral, which was held from his late home, 135a Massachusetts avenue, was attended by Post 39, American Legion, of which he was a member. A high mass of requiem was celebrated in the Church of the Immaculate Conception. A firing squad from Fort Banks fired a volley over his grave in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Mr. Fitzgerald, who died suddenly of heart disease on New Year's day, was born in South Boston fifty-four years ago, the son of David J. and Annie M. Dowling Fitzgerald. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Marla Neilsen Fitzgerald and three sons—David Fitzgerald and William Fitzgerald of Dedham and Karl Eugene Fitzgerald of Arlington.

MRS. ROBERT O. BURNS

Mrs. Evelyn R. Dinsmore Burns, the wife of Robert O. Burns, of 170 Summer street died suddenly of heart disease last Thursday. She was in her fifty-third year. Funeral services were held at his late residence Saturday afternoon. Burial was in Lynnfield Centre.

Expect More Returns from Christmas Seal Campaign

While the Christmas Seal Campaign formally closed on Christmas Day, late returns are expected to swell the total sales. Allister F. MacDougall, treasurer of the Southern Middlesex Health Association, announced today.

"In some of our communities returns so far have fallen short of the amount raised last year and needed to carry on the necessary work this year," Mr. MacDougall said, but he expressed confidence that the post-holiday totals would materially increase the final figure for these towns. In the remainder of the towns the returns are ahead of last year's to such an extent that the grand total is about four hundred dollars more than a year ago.

The work of the Association is directed toward the prevention of tuberculosis by means of an educational program which includes talks, sound motion pictures, charts, and exhibits. A health camp seeks to build proper health habits and stronger physiques in selected boys and girls each summer. A plan of rehabilitation of recovered tuberculosis patients aims to adjust these people socially and economically to normal living. The finding of new and often unsuspected cases of tuberculosis is also an essential phase of the work carried out in cooperation with city, county, and state public health agencies.

Salvation Army Goes Over Top in Arlington

An over-the-top report is made in the annual appeal of The Salvation Army in Arlington, to the joy of the campaign leaders and sponsoring group, according to a statement made by Arthur J. Mansfield, chairman of the supporting committee, and Edward C. Hildreth, treasurer of the appeal, a total of $2051 was on hand as the week started, in the appeal effort that had $2000 as its quota.

In speaking of the victorious program to raise funds to carry on the work of the Salvation Army, William A. Nicol, director of all financial campaigns for the Army in this state, said:

"The Salvation Army is grateful to the men and women of Arlington. Arlington folk have always been kind to our cause. I want to thank your leaders, the sponsoring committee, as well. They have been thoroughly co-operative."

Mr. Nicol added:

"Arlington has reached its goal. It is part of the Greater Boston $200,000 annual maintenance appeal. For that reason it will be highly fitting that those who have failed to make their usual donation, or if there are some who have never before aided, to give now. It would in the first place aid the job of making the $200,000 effort a complete victory. We need several thousand dollars. You may send or hand your donation to Mr. Hildreth, at the Arlington National Bank. Extra donations right now will also aid in swelling the Arlington Local Relief Fund of The Salvation Army, through which emergency aid is given children, mothers, fathers of Arlington."

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton M. Haig and son, Robert, of Belmont have returned from a trip to North Dakota, where they spent the Christmas holidays with Mr. Haig's relatives, who have a ranch at Starkweather. They traveled four thousand miles by car, and found the roads excellent, especially through the prairies, where roads run straight and wide for miles at a stretch. Master Robert greatly enjoyed the winter sports, which are fully as popular in the West as they are here. On the return trip, they visited Mr. Haig's brother, who is superintendent of schools in Minneapolis; and in Chicago they stopped to see Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howland (the former Marion Peirce of Arlington) and their seven-year-old son, John.

Mrs. Tewksbury has been tramping the local boards for more than fifty years and during all that time she has never failed to turn in a side-splitting performance. Yes, indeed, "The Purple Doorknob" is a comedy and could not fit Mrs. Tewksbury any better if it had been written expressly for her.

Supporting "Tewky" will be Peggy McGinn, a new member and a brilliant actress, and Eunice Nelson, who has also had considerable experience. Miss McGinn is an Emerson graduate and a beautiful girl to boot.

"The Other Side of a Door" is a mystery-comedy and has only two in the cast. Lorraine Miller, who has made her mark in all sorts of capacities during the past year, will play the leading role, and she will be most ably assisted by Dorothy Ring, who is being welcomed back to the stage after a long absence.

Parker Wood's play, "And Templed Hills," which will be the third offering on the bill, is from a thrilling Cosmopolitan Magazine story with certain embellishments to adapt it to the stage. As Mr. Wood puts it, "The story, at least, is a good one. Now it is up to the cast to make the dramatization a success."

Grip Grips Many Arlington People

Arlington is getting its share, and perhaps a little more, of the flu epidemic. Fortunately, most of the cases are light, though very uncomfortable, and the sufferers are able to return to work in two or three days. A few of them are more serious.

The police force has been hard hit, some nine of the force having been confined to their homes. Officer James F. Ryan, whose home is at 51 Westminster avenue, is in the Symmes Hospital with pneumonia. He is, however, reported on the road to recovery. Others who have been out sick are Lieutenants Barry and Sullivan and Officers Tynan, William Burns, Colbert, C. Scannell, Duggan and M. J. Scannell.

Superintendent of Schools Joseph S. Keating says that there is nothing to the story that the High School will be closed on account of the epidemic. In fact, he says school attendance seems to be about normal. It is the teachers who are absent. He himself has had an attack and sixteen teachers were out in one day.

At the Town Hall, too, there are several sufferers. Clerks are out in the Public Works Department while the whole force of the Selectmen's office has been hit. The sick there are Secretary James J. Golden, Jr., and the two clerks, Miss Eleanor Hill and Miss Jean Burke.

STONEHAM AND MELROSE
ADD TWO TO HOCKEY LOSSES

High School Will Fight with Belmont for Cellar.

The Arlington High hockey team was handed a pair of setbacks last week at the hands of Stoneham and Melrose, thereby extending the Red and Gray famine to five games. It looks as though Arlington and Belmont will battle it out for possession of the league cellar in their Friday afternoon game. These neighbors were trimmed first by Newton and then by Rindge.

Wednesday's games saw Melrose continue in the undefeated class, with a 4-2 win over Medford. Newton held a like margin over Belmont and Cambridge Latin and Rindge battled to a 1-1 tie in the first game for the Cambridge city championship. The Stoneham and Melrose games were 6-2.

A Good Battle

The Red and Gray put up a good battle against Stoneham for two periods and were trailing 2-1 going into the final twelve minutes. Goalie Ike Bevins was just getting settled in the Arlington net when Landers made it one to nothing on a solo effort. Captain Art Blanchard took a pass from Bennett fifteen seconds before the first minute had elapsed and the score was tied. Both clubs had tallied within forty-five seconds of the opening faceoff. Drillon put the Blue and White out in front again at 7:21 with an unassisted goal.

The second period saw the fury fly with the locals trying desperately to knot the count. Arlington really pushed the play from start to finish. The final session was nothing short of a nightmare for Charlie

Several other Cubs qualified too late to receive their awards last week, but will be honored at the next meeting of the Pack on February 7th.

Three Boy Scouts, Charles Arthur, Humbert Webster and Norman Wilson, were awarded Den Chief cards.

Downs. Guy Wallace took the opening face and pushed the disc past Bevins after three seconds of play. The same Mr. Wallace made another tally 48 seconds later on a pass from Landers. Then at 8:13 Wallace made it three in a row with Landers getting his second assist. Seventeen seconds later Rudd pushed the sixth and final goal into the Arlington cage. Allie Burns interrupted the streak at 6:25 when he fed Eddie Bennett a pass for an Arlington score. The summary:

Melrose Makes It Five

Saturday afternoon Arlington met the high flying Melrose sextet and the final was 6-3 with the El Ponders making it five in a row while Arlington continued its pace. Newton moved to within a game of the leaders by chalking up a 3-1 win over the Cantabs, while Stoneham and Rindge remain a game and one half of the lead. Rindge shelacked Belmont 6-0 and Stoneham and Medford fought to a 2-2 deadlock.

The Red and Gray really put up a good fight in the opening session. Arlington scored first at 4:44 when Art Blanchard blasted home a penalty shot.

Melrose Cuts Loose

The powerful Melrose club cut loose in the middle chapter and poured four goals into the Arlington cage.

Arlington recovered in the last period and made a contest out of it. Red Kelley replaced Bevins in the goal and made a couple of pretty saves. After 45 seconds Blanchard passed to Burns who drilled home a long shot and then at 5:20 Captain Art skated through the Melrose team for the best goal of the afternoon. Again Arlington forced the play but three goals were too much for them to match and they went down by a 6-3 count.

From Quincy Five

After hanging up its second win of the season last Wednesday against Lexington, Arlington's basketball team was handed its initial setback at the hands of an aggressive quintet. The Lexington victory was featured by the brilliance of Captain Tommy Cotter and although he performed creditably in the Friday defeat, his shooting was not quite up to par. The final score of the Quincy encounter was 26-22.

The game was marred by the fact that both Cotter and centre Ritchie Ryrholm were put out of the game for committing four personal fouls apiece. A fast first half saw both clubs tally eleven points. The visitors had a two-point edge at the three quarter mark and then went on to win in the home stretch, while Arlington was playing without the services of Cotter and Ryrholm. Dave Burke's ball-handling was the feature of the game as far as the local rooters were concerned. Cotter stole scoring honors with seven points, while Ryrholm, Caddy, Kotzen and Mathisen each tallied half a dozen. The summary:

Rindge took Waltham's measure by a 39-33 score, while Newton smothered Cambridge Latin, 26-15 in the other opening day contests.

The Arlington seconds hung up their first win of the season with a 29-20 triumph. The summary:

WITH "SOUTH OF SUEZ"
AND "THE BANK DICK"
By Joseph Hoar

"Escape"

For Sunday

Metro has more propaganda in "Escape." But disguised as suspense it becomes just a little more. It tells the inside story of Germany but points to the "characters and incidents in this photoplay are entirely fictitious, any similarity to persons living or dead is purely coincidental" phrase on the film's credits whenever mention is made of Zee Beeg Man of Germany. In other words "Escape", though daring, is still afraid. Perhaps Mr. Mayer had his eye on the foreign profits.

The acting as was marked here after the press preview is outstanding because of the ployers like Conrad Veidt, Albert Basserman, Nazi-mova and Philip Dorn who make the way easier for Norma Shearer and Robert Taylor. Second film on this bill is "One Night in the Tropics" with Robert Cummings and Nancy Kelly.

"Winteret" and "The Fighting Sixty Ninth"

For Review Day

Dreamy, intelligent Burgess Meredith who through air travel is able to play a role in New York and one in Los Angeles in the same day, and who accepts only a part he believes in, returns once more to the University in "Winteret," the Maxwell Anderson screen play in which he made his sensational motion picture debut. This film made in 1936 has been revived twice before. Margo, Edward Ellis and Paul Gilfoyle are present.

"The Fighting Sixty-Ninth" with its Cagney, O'Brien and Brent goes smashing into the big top of current screen hits by its return Wednesday, January 15. This very popular photoplay has its finer moments in the scenes showing Mr. Cagney as a rookie. You might compare this hilarity to Mr. Chaplin's "Shoulder Arms." Pat O'Brien as a priest, and George Brent as a major, both historic people, acquit themselves admirably while Alan Hale of the rainbow western epics gets his first taste of Cagney in this picture.

"South of Suez" Starts Thursday

Just as Dorothy Lamour looked alluring in "Moon Over Burma" so does Brenda Marshall in "South of Suez." The accent is on sex appeal in the tropics with sparse mention of the distasteful experiences one must go through in such a location. George Brent who starred in "Adventure in Diamonds," has a similar role in this diamond-studded adventure film.

Mrs. Beers Elected New President of Bradshaw-Friendly

Always of interest to members of the Bradshaw-Friendly Union, the annual meeting held on Monday afternoon in the Orthodox Congregational church, did not fall short of the standard of previous years. Pleasant indeed it was to welcome again the president, Mrs. Lester C. Shirley, after her recent illness who, presiding in her usual gracious manner, said a few well-chosen words of greeting for the New Year. The short devotional service in charge of Mrs. Everett E. Brainard with helpful remarks by the pastor, Rev. Laurence L. Barber, preceded the business session.

The yearly reports taking precedence, showed united effort and desire for service during the past season. Real regret was felt at the retirement as Social Service Chairman of Mrs. Earl S. Lewis, whose faithful and conscientious work has been greatly appreciated; also of Mrs. Alvin A. Woodward, excellent Chairman of the House Committee, whose recent moving from town was a great loss to her many friends.

In closing, Mrs. Shirley, who is president, has so endeared herself in the capable performance of her duties and who has been forced by ill health to withdraw, briefly thanked the members of the Board for their cooperation.

The incoming president, Mrs. Carroll H. Beers, in taking office ardently urged the need of the church for the loyalty of each and everyone. Mrs. Beers, fresh from her triumphs as successful campaign leader of the Red Cross, was enthusiastically received by all.

An unusually delicious tea was served by the Executive Board, chairmanned by Mrs. Charles D. Moore.

The following slate of officers was presented by Mrs. Frank H. Walker, chairman of the Nominating Committee: president, Mrs. Carroll H. Beers; vice-presidents, Mrs. Morton C. Bradley and Mrs. Harold B. Wood; recording secretary, Miss Alice Whittier; assistant secretary, Miss Mildred Sullivan; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Frank G. Volpe; treasurer, Mrs. Stanley E. Cook; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Elmer E. Barber; auditor, Mrs. Frank B. Savage; committee chairmen—membership, Mrs. Everett E. Brainard; social, Mrs. Everett G. Cobb; ways and means, Mrs. G. Edward Wilkins; good cheer, Mrs. Charles D. Moore; hand work, Mrs. R. C. Clifford; social service, Miss Elizabeth Maxim; house, Mrs. Glen E. Owens; nominating, Mrs. Charles H. Doty.

ADELPHIANS

Dr. Grady D. Feagan will address the Adelpian Young People's Society of the Arlington First Baptist church next Sunday evening in the chapel of the church.

The speaker at the last meeting, when the Adelpians were guests of the Senior Christian Endeavor Society, was the Rev. James Walters, associate secretary of the Missions Council of Congregational churches. Rev. Walters, who is in charge of a hospital farm in Puerto Rico, has devised a unique method of educating patients, who cannot afford to pay for medical treatment, in the latest methods of agriculture during their period of convalescence. Thus, they can often pay for hospitalization by helping in various ways on the institution's grounds and acquire special training which enables them to make a better living for themselves after their release from the hospital.

At the close of the meeting Dr. and Mrs. Grady D. Feagan held a reception for the young people.

A skating party is scheduled by the Adelpians for next Saturday evening at Miss Alice Hall's camp on Long-Sought-For Pond, Westford. Those who plan to attend will meet at the Arlington First Baptist church at 6:45 p. m. Transportation will be provided for all.

SKATE PATROL

Most efficient of the suggestions for preventing accidents to those who skate at night on Spy Pond is a combination of two methods—red lanterns and skating patrols.

Even when the weather is very cold there are areas where the ice on Spy Pond is unsafe. Such areas could be marked by red lanterns. To prevent the lanterns being carried by mischievous skaters to other parts of the pond, a skating patrol is suggested. With a fast skating officer—and we are assured on good authority that the Arlington force boasts at least two—patrolling the line of lanterns the most daring youngster would hesitate to “lift” one. If he did, he could be caught and punished.

As a matter of fact, there is nothing new in this idea for one Arlington resident recalls that when, in his boyhood, he skated on the Charles, the ice was guarded by a skating policeman.

While the new “danger” signs are durable, it would be perfectly possible for skaters to go onto the ice between them without noticing them. Also, unless the unsafe spots are guarded the signs could never be taken down with perfect assurance that there would be no accidents.

The answer seems to be lanterns and skating policemen. For many of the force, it should be a pleasant assignment.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUTH

Dr. Allan A. Stockdale, National Association of Manufacturers

The youth of high-school age today sees a world around him whose main interest seems to be in war and in defense preparation. The airplanes flying overhead suggest the destruction by air war abroad; the radio lets us almost hear the rat-tat-tat of machine guns and the explosion of bombs; the departure of young men from every community for military camps reminds us that America, too, belongs to the world where these things are going on. Indeed our country is in the midst of a mighty effort to keep the storm of war from sweeping into this hemisphere. No wonder such matters absorb our attention.

But the opportunities for American youth—for the Boy Scouts of today—are not likely to be in those activities, even though they are now uppermost in our minds. There are services that Boy Scouts may be called on to do for national defense, and they will do them. Their main business, however, should be to prepare themselves for the opportunities that await them when this national emergency is past.

The progress Americans have made in the past 150 years in the occupation of a continent, in the mastery of nature, and in the improvement of their scale of living is only a start on a road whose end nobody can foresee. Science tells us of new frontiers which it has explored and which are ready to be occupied, and of other frontiers on the horizon which are yet to be explored. These are not geographic frontiers, but frontiers of present human wants that have not been satisfied and of further wants that will be created by new discoveries and inventions.

As long as there are more things that need to be done than there are persons qualified to do them, there will be opportunities for youth. It is for them to fit themselves in body and mind so that when they leave school they will not only recognize opportunity but also be able to take advantage of it. There may always be some over-crowded occupations; but we may be sure that there will be countless occupations seeking well-prepared recruits, in the years full of promise that lie ahead.

$16,690,000 Red Cross Funds Given for Relief

The Boston Metropolitan Chapter Headquarters in Washington, D. C., recently announced that as of the end of 1940 it had provided $16,690,000 of relief in cash and supplies to war victims and refugees in 13 nations.

The bulk of the relief either has been distributed or is en route to Great Britain and China. A ship is about to be loaded for Greece and further shipments for Finland will be sent at an early date.

The largest sum, $8,972,000, including commitments for January shipment, went to Great Britain. Finland received $1,879,000; France, $1,838,000; Greece, $1,069,000; Poland, $996,000; China, $823,000; Canada, $70,000 for a Canadian hospital in England; Belgian refugees, $57,000; Norway, $45,000; The Netherlands, $25,000; and the League of Red Cross Societies in Geneva, $53,000.

Of the $16,690,000 disbursed, $11,887,000 represented Red Cross funds and $1,944,387 sweaters, socks, layettes, and 16,681,505 surgical dressings, and $4,803,000 represented expenditures and commitments from a $50,000,000 congressional appropriation for purchase of surplus foods for refugees.

When Germany invaded the low countries last May the American Red Cross campaigned for $20,000,000. A total of $21,789,000 was raised.

Seven months ahead of schedule, Britain launches a new 35,000-ton battleship, “The Duke of York.” Four more soon to follow.
A detachment of French Marines, part of Gen. de Gaulle’s Free French forces, aid materially in the capture of Bardia.
An A. P. staff writer tells of motorcycle squads, leaving English shores, clandestinely for occupied France to carry on raids against the Germans; denied in Germany, reaffirmed in New York by the reporter recently returned from London. Trawlers and fishing smacks land the raiders, he states.
Germany purges libraries in Paris of all anti-Nazi books as Hitler takes over most important French book exporting agencies.
Said a German to an emigrant from the Third Reich, as he was delayed at the frontier: “This is worse than a lost war. A thousand times worse. In 1918 a few foreigners perhaps despised us. And unjustly. Now we despise ourselves. And justly. I wish I could change places with you. Greet America from the old Germany that has perished. Forget the new Germany as fast as you can.”—Monitor.
On the Rome radio Giovanni Aulsaldo frankly admits the fall of Bardia in Italian Libya to be a “sad piece of news to us” as he views with alarm Hitler’s possible double thrust, one through Rumania, Bulgaria and Greece, another through France and Spain in an attempt to injure British power in the Mediterranean. Il Duce seems deserted by friend and foe.
Amy Mollison, famed British flier, drowns in the Thames while on war duty.
Germany claims to have 3,900,000 tons of British shipping.
England’s hope in diminishing these sinkings lies in a new sub detector, invented by a German refugee.
Because Britain protects the Atlantic Ocean and the United States, President Roosevelt calls for “all out for Britain” as he defies the Axis powers. His four peace points include Freedom of speech, to worship God in his own way, freedom from want, freedom from fear (reduction of armaments).
The President’s personal envoy, Harry Hopkins, leaves for London on the Yankee Clipper, perhaps to consummate the plan to have Uncle Sam take over British routes in South America and Pacific waters to relieve the British merchantmen for Atlantic service.
William Allen White withdraws as chairman of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies after doing a magnificent work in molding public opinion. White’s recent statement, “The Yanks are not coming,” caused the out-and-out interventionists to resign from the committee.
The Federal Reserve System presents the country with a new fiscal program which bars inflation. It includes increase of reserve requirements of banks to absorb dangerous excess reserves; removal of Presidential power to devalue the dollar further; removal of this power to issue $3,000,000,000 of greenbacks; repeal of the Treasury’s power to monetize foreign silver; neutralization of further gold

American bombers weighing 47,000 pounds operate 30,000 feet in the air and fly a distance equalling the course from New York to Ireland, with plenty of gasoline left in the tank.

Time Magazine picks Winston Churchill as 1940’s “Man of the Year,” Il Duce, its “Greatest Flop.”

Dr. George V. Denny, Jr., would organize 50,000 Town Meeting discussion groups and 1000 Town Hall educational centers in the United States. Pledges pour in to the amount to date, $128,200. Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., gives $50,000.

As the Waterman fountain pen plant moves from New Jersey to New York, the company thoroughly cleans house—floors up—wash basins filtered in the expectation of salvaging $20,000 in gold.

Merchant Marine cargo ships now under construction use new “spider web” air cushions; practically ends pulsations.

The Governor’s inaugural address meets with general acclaim—with the exception of that airport at Bedford. His proposal that the State help the city of Boston please the mayor at least.

Opposed to inheritances, Clarence Schock gives Mount Joy, Pa., a $1,000,000 oil business. Says Mr. Schock, “a man’s estate should go to the general welfare.” He also gives $20,000 to the school districts of Lancaster County.

Mrs. Ellen McKay Berlin attacks “The Wave of the Future,” says it reflects “skilful German propaganda,” and adds: “The Nazis have disguised old-fashioned tyranny to look like something new. They have touched the heart of a poet like Mrs. Lindbergh. In this war Mrs. Lindbergh would have us believe that there is a conflict, not between good and evil, but between the old and the new. She is even wrong about which is the old. A man has led his people out to conquer. There is nothing new about that. Democracy is a lot newer than tyranny.”—Monitor.
Hollywood abandons one of its most ancient customs, the premiere. The press views the new pictures from now on.
Mrs. M. W. Warner of Wollaston says she has purchased “Fleurs de Tobac” made in France from the tobacco flower many times and if German scientists now announce it as a great discovery, they have stolen the formula from the French.

Wednesday morning a gang of some hundred men were busy cleaning the ice on the northeast side of Spy Pond, next to the railroad, to fill the great houses of Addison Gage Ice Co., at that point. The ice is of the finest quality, being now 12 inches thick and with their improved machinery and under the efficient direction of Mr. James Durgin, the veteran superintendent of the company, the removal of the snow was a short job.

This morning a party of Arlingtonians, headed by Mr. George P. Winn, started for a few days fishing on the ponds at Mashpee, where they expect to find some pickerel and more fun.

THE A. E. LONG & SON PRE-ARRANGED FUNERAL PLAN

OUR PRE-ARRANGEMENT PLAN is based upon our traditional policy of providing true quality and sound value, regardless of the price the subscriber chooses to pay. This plan only differs from making arrangements at the time of need in the following well-defined ADVANTAGES:

- IT PROVIDES that the individual's wishes regarding the details of the service, including the price, shall be faithfully observed.
- IT SETS ASIDE (if the subscriber so wishes) the money to be used to pay funeral expenses. The money is deposited in a bank, its safety insured by the United States Government.
- IT PROTECTS the bereaved family against sentimental over-spending.
- IT GUARDS AGAINST the possibility of disagreement among those attending to the making of arrangements. In our experience, we have found at times that the conflicting opinions of kinfolk and intimate friends have added perplexity to the choice of furnishings and price.
- IT AVOIDS the possibility of expensive mistakes should death occur in a distant city. Through affiliations our service extends to all parts of the Americas.
- IT PREVENTS youthful kin from being forced to rely on immature judgment.
- IT CONSERVES (when prepayment is made) the insurance funds that a bereaved family needs during its period of adjustment.
- IT SAFEGUARDS the family against being influenced by price-lure "bargain" offers into making hurried arrangements and perhaps spending beyond its means.

The subscriber may change or cancel the agreement at any time and secure a return in full of all money paid.

Park Avenue Church Has 55th Anniversary

Last Sunday the Park Avenue Congregational church celebrated its 55th anniversary. Rev. Frank Landolt preached the occasional sermon, "The Fulfillment of Their Hope." Several members who were present at the first service of the church and who are still active members of the parish were present. They were Elna S. Bridgman (Stover), Minot A. Bridgman, Amelia Elder, Margaret Elder, Catherine Finley, Susanah Finley, Margaret Henderson, Sarah Henderson, Mary C. Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Nicoll, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Snow. At 4:30 p. m. a candlelight communion was held at which time Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Morton, Mrs. Edward R. Nicoll, and Mrs. Frank J. Landolt were received into membership.

Soldier-Chaplain to Open Revival Campaign

Colonel the Rev. F. C. Miles, D.S.O., O.B.E., V.D., F.P.S., who opens his revival campaign in the Arlington Heights Baptist church, Rev. W. E. Bridge, pastor, on Sunday, was chief chaplain of the Australian Imperial Forces in Gallipoli, 1914-1920, and was three times decorated by the late King George V. for gallantry and self-sacrificial actions when he fearlessly stood by wounded and dying soldiers and comforted them with the Word and Life. He has occupied the leading pulpits in Great Britain, particularly in London; he has preached before royalty, and is in constant demand as a Biblical teacher in such conventions as the American and Canadian Keswicks, the Montrose Ministerial Institute and the Moody Bible Institute. He is ex-president of the Christian Endeavor Society of Great Britain and Ireland, and is now serving as International Secretary of the Russian Missionary Society. Colonel Miles is an authority on Russia, the revolution, the suppression of religion, and the prospects of revival in Soviet Russia. During his New England visit, he will in addition to his revival schedule with the Arlington Heights Baptist church, speak in the following churches and service organizations: Thursday, January 9, Trinity Baptist church, Arlington; Friday, January 10, First Baptist church, Arlington; Saturday, January 11, Youth Rally, Arlington Heights Baptist church; Wednesday, January 15, Middlesex Sportsman's Club for Rotary Club; Thursday, January 16, Kiwanis Club in Wyman's Restaurant.

Bushnell Group Chooses Officers for Coming Year

The Bushnell Group of the Bradshaw-Friendly Union held its first meeting of the new year last Friday at the home of its secretary, Mrs. William K. Cook, 21 Addison street. At this time Mrs. Albert W. Hilliard and Mrs. Morton C. Bradley, who have served as co-chairmen so efficiently for several years, were unanimously chosen to continue as leaders for another year. Mrs. Cook also consented to act as secretary for 1941.

The group has suffered a great loss in the death of Mrs. Archibald (Harriet Taylor) Eagleson. She had been a most devoted and earnest worker, especially in the work of Rev. Ralph Rowse, who is in charge of the city missionary activities of the Congregational denomination in Boston. Her death left a vacancy in the office of treasurer, which Mrs. William Luxford was prevailed upon to take once again, after only one year of freedom from a position she had held for several years.

Mrs. Anna F. Woods read a letter received from a missionary in India, where for years Mrs. Woods was stationed in a school supported by the Massachusetts Congregational Missionary Society. It expressed appreciation for the Christmas cards sent in May, by group members.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon, Sunday, January 12, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The Golden Text is: "The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all" (II Corinthians 13:14). Other Bible citations include: "Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us; therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth" (I Corinthians 5:7,8).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We worship spiritually, only as we cease to worship materially. Spiritual devoutness is the soul of Christianity. Worshipping through the medium of matter is paganism. Judaic and other rituals are but types and shadows of true worship. 'The true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth'" (p. 140).

First Baptist Men to Hold Communion Breakfast

The First Baptist church Men's Class is having a communion breakfast next Sunday at 8 a. m. This takes the place of its usual noon meeting. This assembly is unique in the long history of the class, as it is the first time the class as a group has met together at a communion breakfast.

The men will meet in the class room promptly at the hour specified by their pastor and teacher, Dr. Grady D. Feagan. At the conclusion of Dr. Feagan's address, communion will be given to the men by the church deacons. Approximately 200 men are expected to be present.

A large committee of class members have been active making arrangements for this meeting under the direction of Roger Jenks and Francis Tufts. Table arrangements are in charge of George Miller. Harold Meyer is in charge of catering arrangements. J. W. Anderson heads the service committee.

Number of Arlington Marriages Increased

There were 505 marriages in Arlington in 1940, sixty-nine more than in 1939. Marriage intentions also increased in number—439 in 1940 and 395 in 1939. There were eighteen fewer deaths—454 in 1940—and twenty-nine fewer births—602 in 1940.

These figures were compiled in the office of Town Clerk Earl A. Ryder on January second. More births, deaths and marriages will be received from out of town, however, for some time to come.

Funeral Prearrangements For the Farsighted

In time to come humankind's most notable achievement will probably be known as The Conquest of Fear. People generally are becoming more philosophical in facing the facts of life.

For a long while people have been making advance funeral arrangements to make sure that their individual wishes shall be faithfully observed. Countrywide reports show that each year there are thousands of Americans who record and file their personal funeral wishes.

Although life insurance is now an established custom, its popularity was of gradual growth. It has been in general use for only a few decades. Funeral prearrangements, not to be confused with life insurance, have steadily been gaining the acceptance of thoughtful people who believe in making every possible provision for the future.

A. E. Long & Son, funeral directors, are now offering a Funeral Pre-Arrangement Plan that combines all of the best features used by other leading members of the mortuary profession in other parts of the country to meet this need. The foresight of those who make advance arrangements adds significance to this firm's well known slogan: "Service is a Long word."

The prearranged funeral takes a rightful place among other planned provisions. Homes, home comforts, automobiles, social security, life insurance, health and accident policies, hospitalization, wills, trust funds, cemetery lots and other benefits are planned provisions, possessed by people who know that the installment plan has helped them live abundantly while the paid-in-full-at-time-of-purchase method would have barred them from the advantages that make up the American way of life. The budget payment system of everyday life makes the installment buying of prearranged funerals seem just and proper.

In the A. E. Long & Son plan pre-payment is not obligatory. However, those who wish to pay in full or by installments receive absolute protection for their money. The agreement shows that all money paid by a subscriber is deposited in a bank where its safety is insured by the U. S. Government. None of this money becomes part of the firm's business funds. Upon the subscriber's request it will be returned to him in full because the agreement is subject at any time to change or cancellation by him.

INTERESTED CROWD ATTENDS ADULT EDUCATION CLASSES

Stenography were very popular and largely attended. The ever-popular and practical sewing classes were in charge of Miss Mary White. This class is very popular every year due to the efficient instruction. Those interested in amateur photography should plan to register next Monday for the interesting course given by Samuel Lanza.

There are several changes in the teaching staff. George Savage is teaching one class in typewriting. Miss Emily Berry has charge of the other group. There are several vacancies in the typewriting classes. Those interested should plan to enroll next Monday evening at the high school.

The Art classes are being taught by David Baker of West Medford, who has planned a fine course.

Miss Edith Chamberlain will teach the class in current English. It is expected many more will register for the classes on next Thursday.

Children Look Forward To Next Symphony Concert

Twenty-eight lucky Arlington children, who already have their tickets, are looking forward to the next children's symphony concert which will be given in Sanders Theatre, Cambridge, at three in the afternoon of January 22nd, by the Boston Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Wheeler Beckett.

They are watching with interest, too, the sports page of the Boston Sunday Herald, where letters are appearing from children telling why they like the concerts.

ARLINGTON BRANCH OF RED CROSS ESTABLISHED

Heretofore, the Red Cross organization has been a division headed by a small committee. The establishment of a branch is demanded because of world affairs.

The Red Cross in Arlington has been very efficient in the past, as evidenced by the annual reports of Mrs. C. H. Beers, chairman of the Roll Call, Mrs. H. B. Turner, chairman of Production, and Mrs. Stanley Kingman, chairman of the Junior Red Cross.

The work of Mrs. Miriam Black, as Red Cross nutritionist, more particularly in the Arlington schools, has been most instructive and stimulating.

Headquarters are on the second floor of the Arlington Five Cents Savings Bank Building, at the corner of Massachusetts avenue and Pleasant street, where the Production Department has been meeting since early summer on Mondays and Thursdays. They have also been directing work throughout the town in neighborhood groups.

tion and open house in the parish hall. Many former members of the church will return to renew friendships and look over the collection of historical items relating to the activities of the church since its founding in 1840.

A banquet in the vestry that evening will necessarily be limited to 150 persons, including special guests. An orchestra and special decorations, the presence of former pastors and an address by Dr. William Wallace Rose, pastor of the First Universalist church in Lynn, will make this a memorable occasion.

It was on January 20, 1841, that the Universalists gathered for the dedication of the plain meeting-house illustrated here. On Sunday, January 19, it will be rededicated. One feature of the service will be the singing of a hymn written for the dedication a century ago by Mrs. Josiah Waldo, the wife of the first pastor. Dr. Robert Cummins, general superintendent of the Universalist church and a member of this church, will preach the occasional sermon.

Reservations for the banquet, the booklet history, and overnight accommodations are in charge of Harriet F. Holt, 18 Lombard road. The out-of-town people expected for the celebration include Mr. and Mrs. Irving C. Tomlinson of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Cushing of Montclair, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Wallace M. Powers of Jackson Heights, N. Y., and Mrs. Fred Tuttle of South Royalston.

The original meeting-house was enlarged in 1860 when the present steeple was added. Changes in the auditorium were made in 1896 at the time of installing the organ given by Walter B. Farmer in memory of his father, Elbridge Farmer. The parish house was erected in 1925 and the following year the attractive chancel was built in the auditorium and dedicated to Eugene X. Waters, whose substantial legacy made it possible.
